At just over 14,000 sf in size this custom metal building serves as the corporate office for a construction company. It houses office space for field employees, a large training room for 170+ employees, and a shop for storage and maintenance of extensive equipment and truck fleet.

It is single slope in design, with the exterior being a combination of Architectural III, tilt wall, and masonry. A below-eave canopy leads into the office area. Other features of this building include a wash bay, three Big Ass Fans, eleven overhead doors, locker rooms, and a kitchen with food service window.
