What's on the Dashboard?

Video and Literature Libraries Available on Dashboard

Have you ever been prepping for a meeting with a potential client and wished you had resources that would help sell a pre-engineered metal building? We know having a solid presentation can be extremely helpful to you and your team when securing a bid. That's why we've placed many videos showing the benefits of our products and metal buildings on the Builder Dashboard, available at your convenience. We also have our library of literature and brochures available for download and ordering.

The video library comprises many videos created to share and highlight a variety of topics, including Energy Code Solutions, The Marketing Portal, Virtual Reality Technology and ShakeoutPro, to name a few. Besides presenting to potential clients, these videos can be resources for training your new team members about pre-engineered metal buildings and American Buildings.

On the Builder Dashboard, under the Marketing Assets, is our Literature Library. The library includes numerous brochures on metal building systems, products, color options, and the various capabilities available to you as an Authorized Builder. On the Builder Dashboard, under Resources, you can order printed literature and have it shipped to you, at no charge.

These libraries and many more resources are all available on the Builder Dashboard.
